

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

The Environmental Protection (Duty of Care) Regulations 1991 places duties on Companies and Site Management to ensure the environment is not damaged as a result of their operations.

David H. Allan Group Limited is committed to minimising the impact of its operations on the environment by means of a programme of continuous improvement.

The environment shall not be damaged as a result of our operations both during construction and after completion. The overall affect to the environment will be considered when planning a project and discussed with the appropriate Enforcing Agency.

We will endeavour to comply with any recognised environmental standard applicable to our works and not to inadvertently damage the environment through emissions, contamination etc as a result of our operations.

We will endeavour to reduce the amount of hazardous substances used in the construction process, endeavour to reduce the environmental hazards and risks for all construction processes and ensure that all environmental issues have been considered in conjunction with the relevant Health & Safety issues.

Disposal of harmful waste materials and substances will not be conducted on site through burning, dumping or burying. These will be removed from site in the appropriate manner. Where we utilise waste disposal contractors, they will be licensed under the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1996.

We confirm we do not intend using any substances that deplete the ozone layer, as listed in the Montreal Protocol, in the execution of any contract.

The use and re-use of materials will receive constant consideration, as will the effects of utilising plant, equipment and materials on the environment.

David H. Allan Group Limited endeavour to ensure that all Clients, Designers and Contractors they work with operate similar environmental policies and are dedicated to the protection of the environment.

The Policy and all associated documentation will be publicised to all employees.

David H. Allan Group Limited will monitor and review this Policy on a regular basis and update or revalidate as appropriate.
